Diplomatic Relations Affected Seriously

Nuremberg, Sept. 14.

SEPTEMBER

Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler is expected to make another important declaration to-morrow evening and there is much speculation as to its nature. One suggestion is that he will announce a breaking off of diplomatic relations with Russia on the ground that co-operation with a country whose principles are diametrically opposed to National Socialism cannot be advantageously continued.

Meanwhile, in Berlin, there have been officially inspired demonstrations for the return of Germany's former colonies. They were held by the Reich Colonial League, under the ægis of the Ministry of Propaganda, in public squares throughout Berlin. Members of the former Colonial Army, in their picturesque uniforms, distributed leaflets containing Herr Hitler's demands for colonies, made at Nuremberg. They also contained an appeal to the public to join the Reich Colonial League and were addressed to all of German or kindred blood.

The demonstrations attracted large crowds, who were addressed by former colonial officers, who emphasised the vital importance of colonial possessions for the life of a great nation.—Reuter.

Wish For Peace

Berlin, Sept. 13. Another emphatic assertion of Germany's wish for peace was made by Herr Adolf Hitler in a speech before 100,000 Storm Troopers and Black Guards at Nuremberg this morning 🚩

"We have only one wish; that is, to preserve peace as we have assured it in our own land.

TWO N.Y. TEAMS IN WORLD'S SERIES?

SUNDAY'S RESULTS

New York, Sept. 13.

It was announced to-day that the World's Series games for the rule of the baseball roost for 1936 will start at 1.30 p.m. on' September 30 on the ground of whichever team wins the National League pennant.

The second, sixth and seventh games will also be played on that ground and the third, fourth and fifth on the Yankee Stadium, the Yankees having already won the American League championship.

The present National League standings, before 'to-day's games were completed, gave New York the lead with .601, and St. Louis was a weakening second with .576. Chleago had .564 and very little chance of catching up the leaders. The Giants are hat favourites.

If the Giants win the pennant, it will bring two New York teams to the World Series and the seven games will be played on consecutive days, otherwise there will be a day's interval between each change of venue.

The explanation is that a very large number of Spaniards are no more truly Catholic than were a number of British soldlers really conviction and attendance members of the Church of England, though they bore "C. of E." on their identity discs in the Army.

Unlike England, the man in Spain or France or Italy who is not Catholic in reality is more often , thun not a militant anti-Christian and opponent to all religion.

The logical "Latin" mentality and temperament is seldom tolerant or indifferent. 'A "Latin" 'is usually a fervent "pro" or rabld "anti," both In politics and religion.

The Communist International throughout Europe recruits largely among such classes, and works unceasingly to fan the flame of hatred of religion, which it proclaims to be the "dope" of the working classes and the great enemy to their progress and social betterment.

The Catholic Church is, admittedly, the foe that Communism must destroy, so whenever and wherever Communism gets power, religion at once violently attacked and, if possible, ruthlessly exterminated.

The Communist International is the child and heir of Lenin. He is "the Christ of Communism" and an enthuslastic blographer sums up his life in the sentence: "He fought without mercy religion and all the allies of religion."

Hence the complete destruction of churches and of many convents in the cities where the Communists became supreme!

The brutal treatment of priests who have been murdered and mutilated in great numbers, in some cases with tortures parallel to those suffered by, martyrs in pagan lands, is reported from nearly every centre in Spain where Communism rules.

Surely diabolic savagery is manifested in the case of those who, as an American eye-witness testifies, "killreaders with both the full account of ed a priest, cut off his arms and legs, happenings in Spain and a clear ripped open his body, and hung the interpretation of the nature of the corpse from a statue of the Virgin in many bodies lay exposed and dis-

RED ARMY REVIEWED AT MINSK

Moscow, Sept. 13. "The invincible Red Army is ready at any moment to destroy the enemy in his own territory," declared Voroshilov, Commissar for Defence, in his address to the Minsk troops participating in the Soviet military manocuvres.

British, French and Czecho-Slovakian delegations were keenly interested as they watched the huge march past of infantry, cavalry, artillery and tanks, while hundreds of aeroplanes roared overhead and a detachment of Cossaeks were given a great ovation by the crowd.

After the parade a dinner in honour of the foreign military delegations was given by General Uborevitch, the district commandant who said that the Red Army was an army of peace, for defence.

SAVAGELY LOVELY . . . this freshly different lipstick whose alluring shades and seductive smoothness bring to lips the sublime madness of a moon-kissed jungle night. Yes, Savage does exactly that : . . for, it colours the lips a wicked red, without coating them with paste. Apply it like ordinary lipstick and rub it in. Like magic the cosmetic vanishes, leaving only the colour, which instantly becomes an actual part of the lips. With Savage, your lips can be pastelessly, savagely red all day . . . or all night! Four wonderful shades from which to choose. Their fresh leveliness simply cannot be described. You must SEE them and use them to know how savage they really are.

matter which exercises the minds of young officers and often brings them to the side of the critics who inveigh against a system which places high command, in the hands of the elderly.

My sympathies are on the side of youth, as my memory is good enough to recall what the elderly thought and said when they were young. I am, moreover, fully convinced that brain power seldom develops greatly after early middle life and more frequently deteriorates, as of course does also ohysical activity. The best of the young men should fully justify their selection in positions of much greater of this suggestion, if rigorously other. For years many have themselves.

Napoleon whom only the test of war would disclose. All one can claim is that the Brevet system should ensure that higher posts will be filled by very competent and reasonably young officers. Perhaps by the time they reach the top they will have lost some of the vigour of youth, but early t promotion will have given them opportunities of widening their experience.

To attempt to push the system to extremes must appear mani-festly absurd to anyone who has ever attempted to weigh accurately the respective merits of a number of promising officers. Any such attempt would increase discontent, and, without the test of war, there could be no certainty that the right selection had been made.

One important measure, perhaps overdue, has recently been adopted to ensure that the physical condition, of the elderly is satisfactory. The annual medicalexamination, formerly somewhat perfunctory, is now as searching as that carried out for insurance.

May not those who complain that modern armies have not produced leaders to rank with Alexander and Hannibal, and who would seek to restore bygone conditions by the exaltation of youth, have been carried back by their studies into the bows and

ANOTHER CHAPTER OF HISTORY EDUCATION IN H.K.

TWELVE CLASS ROOMS WILL HAVE ACCOMMODATION FOR 360 BRITISH BOYS AND GIRLS

IN the first public function since his recent illness, His Excellency the Governor will use a gold key at 3 p.m. to-day to open Hongkong's new half-million dollar Central British School.

British scholars in the Colony will then commence their Michaelmas Term in a building which, of its class, is by far the most modern and hygienic in the Far East.

Many hundred parents, Old Boys and Girls, and visitors are expected to witness the Opening Ceremony.

On arrival at the School His Excellency the Governor will be received by the Headmaster, Mr. G. E. S. Upsdell and at the Main Entrance will be presented with the Gold Key by the Architect, Mr. W. A. Cornell.

Following the official opening, an inspection of the entire building will be made.

Waves that round the Homeland shores are breaking, Breezes tossing wavelets into curls, Echo friendship's songs, their music taking From the lips of Homeland boys and girls, Yet no songs, by Western waters springing, Hold the strains of fellowship that rise With more lusty-strength than sways our singing

Here beneath the glowing Eastern skies. All around us Oriental wonder, In our hearts the wonderland of pouth, In our lives the joy of marching under Golden flags of comradeship and truth. In the games we praise with open pleasure, In the volumes we profess to scorn,

Finding precious memories to treasure Free and gay and honest as the dawn, Ours the task to keep the chorus swelling, With a faith and spirit undismayed. Ours to show that honour finds a dwelling Not alone among the old and stald. Ours to cull, in working or in playtime, Ere life's morning merges into noon,

All the brightest blossoms of youth's maytime

READER CRITICISES ZBW COMMITTEE

In a recent issue you made public, for the first time, the names of the members of the Hongkong Broadcasting Committee. This letter is one of criticism of that committee, but I hope the members of it will accept my remarks as constructively meant, and in no sense personal.

The committee is a voluntary one, and consists of 12 members, including

My first criticism is that, as the governing body for broadcasting in this colony, if is too small. For efficient control, it is necessary to tave numerous sub-committees (e.g., for programmes, stair, auditions, centical matters, publicity, finance, outside brondeasts etc.) which to be of use would have to meet frequent-

Now in a small voluntary commitor of people who have many other interests besides broadcasting, would be unreasonable to expect them to be able to devote the time decessory to control an efficient proadcast service. Usually the result of such conditions is to delegate too nuch authority to the staff, which hvariably leads to bureaucratic nethods, and ignoring of the public. I suspect a good deal of the popular lissatisfaction with ZHW can be In February, 1921, owing to the raced to this source. I suggest the committee should be at least 24 meni-

Shanghai, Sept. 13. Hongkong lawn bowlers suffered their fourth defeat in Shanghai to-day, when they visited Hongkew Golf Club and were beaten by 18 shots to 13 after a very keen match.

The score remained extremely close until the 15th head when Hongkew chalked up a three and placed themselves five shots ahead.

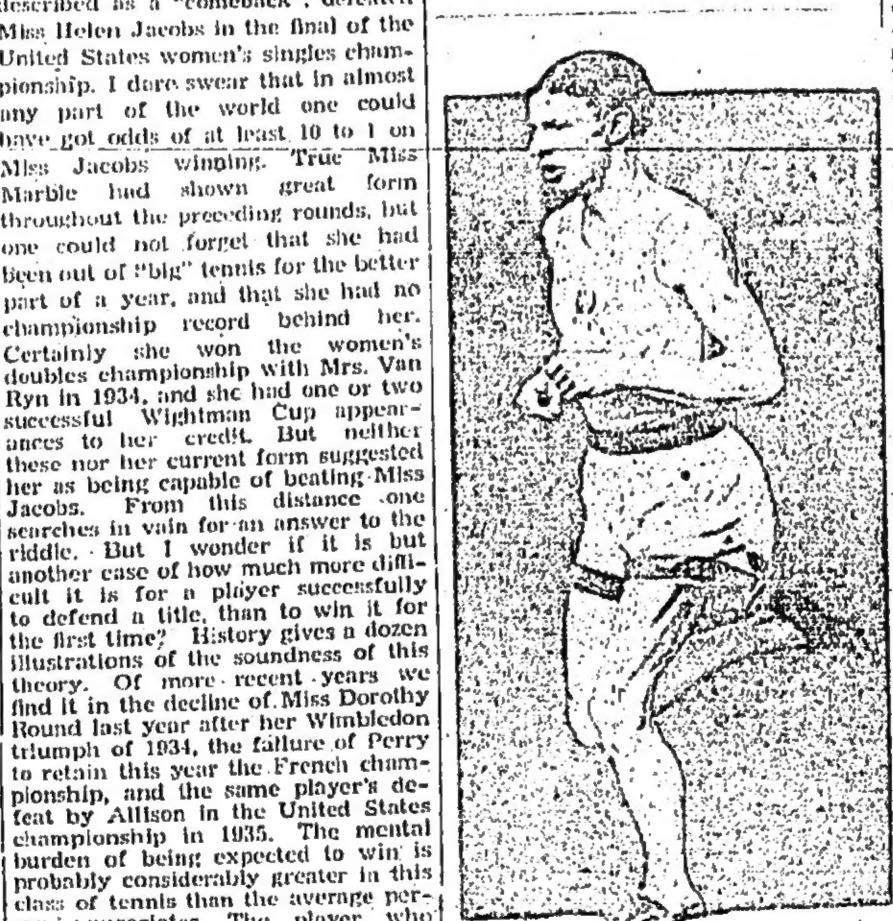

But Hongkong made a good recovery and closed the gap to 15-12. However the Shanghal players recorded three shots on the last two heads, clinching the match.

The standard of play was high throughout. McGowan skipped splendidly for the visitors and played an excellent game. He accomplished numerous expert shots.

C. H. Hosking, secretary of the Hongkong Lawn Bowls Association arrived on the green from Japan arr hour before the game.

Knight, who played lead for Hongkong gave the best performance of the series to date; while F. V. Ribeiro remained fairly steady. C. A. Silva, Honkew's lead and S.

CHAMPIONSHIPS POSSIBLE

.(By "Veritas")

It is now certain that no badminton Interport will materialise this coming season between Hongkong and Singapore. After further consideration of the proposal at a recent meeting of the Hongkong Badminton Association, it was decided, principally because Singapore wanted to come here in October which would be unsuitable to the Colony players, to abandon the idea, at least for this year.

Singapore originally issued a challenge to Hongkong, which the Colony tentatively accepted with reservations. It was first necessary to find out whether Singapore would be prepared to come here in the New Year, and there were, naturally, several dif-Berlin, Aug. 20. | being beaten round the ring" may fleulties which would have to be negotiated.

STARTS TO-DAY

DESCRIPTION OF THE COURSE

Garden City, Long Island,

Play for the Amateur Golf Championship begins to-morrow (September 14) at the Garden City Golf Club, with one of the largest fields ever to compete. The tournament will run for five days ending September 19.

Approximately 200 of the country's best amateur golfers will seek the throne abdicated by Lawson Little when he turned professional shortly after winning the title last

Winners of various sectional tournaments will be allowed to compete at the Garden City Club. The United States Golf Association has allotted to a number of clubs the privilege to hold these preliminaries. As yet none of the returns have been reported to the U.S.G.A. The Garden City Club is one of the very difficult courses of the country, it is located twenty-one miles from New York City, There are eleven par four holes, four par fives, and three par threes, totalling 73 for the course. The outgoing 6 | nine hotes measure 3,376 yards and

Where Slav and Teuton Meet

ROM the Austrian border to the Polish, roughly, round three sides of a square, there runs for 600 miles or so one of the most anxious frontiers in Europe.

Inside the square is democratic Czechoslovakia; outside is Nazi Germany, From Prague, the capital, to the German border is only some fifty miles.

Historically, this frontler line divided the "Crown-lands" of the Habsburgs from the territories of Bayarla and Saxony and Prussin. From 1871 to 1919. It was the boundary between the German and Austro-Hungarlan Empires.

Then, by the Peace Treatles, Czechoslovaltia was created: the three Austrian provinces of Rob rata, Lioravia and Silesia, in which the Czechs were the majority, the Slovak districts of Northern Hungary, and away to the East another bit of Austria, in which the people are Russian.

F the 14,700,000 citizene of the Cacchoslovak Republic, 7,700,000 are Czechs, 2,000,000 Sloyaks, 3,200,000 Germans, 700,000 Hungarians, 600,000 Russlans, 80,000 Poles, and 200,000 Jews.

And of the 3,200,000 Germans (Sudeten-Deutschen, they call themselves, from the Sudete Mountains), the big majority live in the districts by the German border. There are, proportionately, just about as many Germans in Czechoslovakia as French-Swiss in Switzerland. They inhabit an area nearly the size of Belglum.

It is the biggest national minority in any European State. And its existence Is a compilcating factor in the situation.

mans," but "Austrians." When the treatles were made they claimed that they, as well as the Czechs, had the right to "selfdetermination," asked to be united with "German Austria."

But the treaty-makers rejected their claims. On historical, economic and strategic grounds it was decided that the German districts must be part and parcel of the new Czechoslovak State. Moreover, there was no sharp languagefrontier. In the most German areas there is a Czech minority: there are, in other places, German "Islands" entirely surrounded by Czechs.

Since then they have been a people with a grievance. At the least, they said, they should have been treated on a footing of complete equality with the Czechs: as the French-Swiss in Switzerland.

But, they complained, the State was, in fact as well as name, a Czechoslovak Republic. Czech and Slovak were its official languages, but not German. In the army, in the Civil Service, marked preference was given to Czechs.

They were, they said, treated not in any way as equal partners, but as a half-alien minority; with rights indeed as a minority guaranteed them by the treatles: but not with the full equality to which their numbers and their economic importance enlitted

OMPLAINTS have not been without substance. The Germans of Czechoslovakia have never been treated as the Swiss French. And there have been diserhalizations. In the Post Office, for example, only 12.54 per cent. of the employees are Germans.

pared: especially among the young. At the General Election in May of last year the new Sudeten Deutsche Partel, headed by Conrad Henlein, a former bank clerk who had become organiser of German athletic associations, won startling victories, sweeping the German areas. .

It is a new and a dangerous phenomenon, for the Henleln party—though Henlein vehemently denies that it is either Nazi or disguised Nazi, or that it is in touch with the Nazis and the Reich—has marked Nazi characteristics.

It is vehemently anti-Socialist, and anti-Liberal. It is totalitarian. in that it claims that the one party with its one leader should represent all the Germans of Czechoslovakia, that within the community parties and class conflicts must vanish. It is, though less vehemently, anti-Semitic.

UT above all there is the other question. Are Henlein and his party loyal to the State? Are they fighting merely for full equality for the Germans of Czechoslovakia? Or are they the advance guard of an aggressive Nazism, planning to break the State from within, to prepare the way for a new German conquest of the Czech lands?

Henlein himself insists that his movement is neither disruptive nor pan-German.

" We do not want to work against the State. We wish to work loyally with the State. We want to be treated as citizens having equal rights with the others, and to find within the State security for our nationality."

is working for peace and reconciliation.

"Our real mission lies in acting as mediator between our great German mother nation and the Czech people. That is our great task in the cause of peace."

The Czechs bear. But they are not convert d. They frankly distrust II in Sn and his assurances. They see in his movement a double, threat; an internal threat to democracy; and external threat from over the frontier.

and District," they say, "will only vanish when it befores clear that Henlein's words are genuinely meant,"

Abroad, they say, he talks of loyalty and reconciliation. But at home "his party does not indulge in positive and loyal criticism, but in criticism at all costs and in provoking racial animosity."

It is a difficult and a dangerous situation for the Caschs., A large, organised, discontented national minority is a serious problem for any State. It is a hundred times more serious when that minority Is linked by language and national feeling to a people of a great and militant Power just over the border.

A polley of conciliation involves the risk of strengthening and bringing into key positions in the State machine elements which would work from within to weaken and destroy It. +

A polley of repression might easily lead to open revolt and an appeal for aid from across the border: it might play straight into the hands of pan-Germanism. It must certainly aggravate and make worse relations between Czechoslovakia and her powerful neighbour; a dangerous thing in . Itself.

▲ HE choice is not easy, But there are signs that President Benes and Premier Hadza are -He insists that internationally he trying quietly the possibilities of conciliation. If Henlein responds: if he can satisfy them that the Germans will be loyal, a settlement

EXCAVATORS' FIND IN DORSET

, Dorchester, Sept. 5. Archaeologista excavating at Maiden Castle, the hill-top town near here, on which remains of civilisations stretching from 2,000 B.C. to Roman times have been found, believe they may have made one of their most important discoveries.

Digging near the Roman temple which was found in the eastern end of the fortress, they came upon a succession of floors—as they dug deeper so they dug further into the past, until they came upon Stone

Age remains. Deep down in one cutting they unearthed to-day remains of a massive timber structure.

The size of the post holes in which the frame of the building stood indientes that it must have been of considerable strength and importange. Its character is being investigated, but it may well be that in their third season at Maiden Castle the excava-tors have stumbled on the remains of an ancient temple almost on the same site as the temple which the Romans raised.

The massive timbers, it is certain, date from the earliest period of Maiden Castle, and the remains may throw light on the religion practised In England 4,000 years ago.

JAPANESE REFUSED PERMIT TO LAND

CHINESE STAND AT PAKHOL ISSUE STILL UNSETTLED

(Special To "Telegraph")

Canton, Sept. 14.

The Japanese Consulate-General, where questions were asked this morning respecting the reportedly delicate position of affairs in Pakhoi, told the United Press that the Chinese tansport vessel, Fook On, had arrived at Pakhoi this morning but the officials aboard were refused permission to land.

Abourd the Fook On was Lo. Lin. Shih-fen, of the Canton Forcign Affairs Commission, who eventually obtained permission to lard this afternoon.

On those Dr. Lin asked the 19th Route Army Communder in Pashel General Ceng, for permission to conduct a joint Investigation with Japanese officials into the alleged murder of a Japanese subject by a Chinese mob on September 3 : Permission was refused.

Relations Diplomatic Affected Semously

Nuremberg, Sept. 14.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 14, 1936.

Reichsfuchrer Adolf Hitler is expected to make another important declaration to-morrow evening and there is much speculation as to its nature. One suggestion is that he will announce a breaking off of diplomatic relations with Russia on the ground that co-operation with a country whose principlés are diametrically opposed to National Socialism cannot be advantageously continued.

Meanwhile, in Berlin, there have been officially inspired demonstrations for the return of Germany's former colonies. They were held by the Reich Colonial League, under the ægis of the Ministry of Propaganda, in public squares throughout Berlin. Members of the former Colonial Army, in their picturesque uniforms, distributed leaflets containing Herr Hitler's demands for colonies, made at Nuremberg. They also contained an appeal to the public to join the Reich Colonial League and were addressed to all of German or kindred blood.

The demonstrations attracted large crowds, who were addressed by former colonial officers, who emphasised the vital importance of colonial possessions for the life of a great nation.—Reuter.

SAVAGELY LOVELY . . . this freshly différent lipstick whose alluring shades and seductive smoothness bring to lips the sublime madness of a moon-kissed jungle night. Yes, Savage does exactly that . . . for, it colours the lips a wicked red, without coating them with paste. Apply it like ordinary lipstick and rub it in. Like magic the cosmetic vanishes, leaving only the colour, which instantly becomes an actual part of the lips. With Savage, your lips can be pastelessly, savagely red all day . . . or all night! Four wonderful shades from which to choose. Their fresh leveliness simply cannot be described. You must SEE them and use them to know how savage they really are.

matter which exercises the minds of young officers and often brings them to the side of the critics who inveigh against a system which places high command in the hands of the elderly.

My sympathies are on the. side of youth, as my memory is good enough to recall what the elderly thought and said when they were young. am, moreover, fully convinced that brain power seldom develops greatly after early middle life and more frequently deteriorates, as of course does also physical activity. The best of the young men should fully justify their selection themselves.

Napoleon whom only the test of war would disclose. All one can claim is that the Brevet system should ensure that higher posts will be filled by very competent and reasonably young officers. Perhaps by the time they reach the top they will have lost some of the vigour of youth, but early promotion will have given them opportunities of widening their experience.

To attempt to push the system to extremes must appear manifestly absurd to anyone who has ever attempted to weigh accurntely the respective merits of a number of promising officers. Any such attempt would increase discontent, and, without the test of war, there could be no certainty that the right selection had been made.

One important measure, perhaps overdue, has recently been adopted to ensure that the physical condition of the elderly is satisfactory. The annual medical examination, formerly somewhat perfunctory, is now as searching as that carried out for insurance.

What can be the matter?

When your good little son suddenly becomes cross, contrary, tearful ... something more than his disposition is to blame.

Probably he is constipated . . . he needs a laxative. But be sure to give him a laxative suited to a child's sensitive system. Give him Castoria-the laxative made especially for children - from babyhood to cleven years.

In 5,000,000 American homes Castoria is, the standby when a child is out of sorts. Mothers depend upon it because it is thorough and gentle... will never cause griping pain or upset stomach like some of the harsh adult laxatives.

And children love Castoria's pleasant taste. They take it gladly.

Buy a bottle of Castoria today. Discover the ideal laxative for your child. It contains no castor oil!

These brutalities have been concealed, I presume for political ends, whose reports about Spain to-day are no more reliable than those of Labour officials who were at various times taken on "personally conducted" tours of inspection in Russin by Gov-ernment officials.

Possibly readers of the accounts of atrocities by the "Reds" are puzzled as to how such things have come to pass in "Catholic Spain."

FLAME OF HATRED

The explanation is that a very large number of Spaniards are more truly Catholic than were a number of British soldiers really conviction and attendance members of the Church of England, though they bore "C, of E," on their identity discs in the Army,

Unlike England, the man in Spain or France or Italy who is not Catholic in reality is more often than not a militant anti-Christian and opponent

The logical "Latin" mentality and temperament is seldom tolerant or indifferent. A "Latin" is usually a fervent "pro" or rabid "anti," both in politics and religion.

The Communist International throughout Europe recruits largely among such classes, and works unceasingly to fan the flame of hatred of religion, which it proclaims to be the "dope" of the working classes and the great enemy to their progress and social betterment.

The Catholic Church is, admittedly, the foe that Communism must destroy, so whenever and wherever Communism gets power, religion at once violently attacked and, possible, ruthlessly exterminated.

The Communist International is the child and heir of Lenin. He is "the Christ of Communism" and an enthusiastic biographer sums up his life in the sentence: "He fought without mercy religion and all the allies of religion."

P.W.D. CLUB EVENT TO-MORROW

The success of the Public Works Recreation Club's initial effort in holding a swimming gala to-morrow night, by courtesy of the South China Athletic Association, seems assured, Many entries have been received from senior and junior officers, and the results of the beats, which were swum last Friday, indicate a very high standard of proficiency.

Mrs. Wilson, wife of Mr. P. D. Wilson. Assistant Director of Public Works, has kindly consented to present the trophles and prizes, which can be seen in the window of Messrs. Wing Nam, corner of Queen's Road Central and Pottinger Street, until 5.15 p.m. on Tuesday. The Tickle Shield, presented by the Hon, Mr. A. G. W. Tickle, Director of Public Works, is a delightfully artistic example of the maker's skill, while the President's Cup, presented by Mr. P. D. Wilson, President of the Club, shows truly beautiful contours.

PLAY FOR U.S. GOLF

STARTS TO-DAY

DESCRIPTION OF THE COURSE

Garden City, Long Island, Sept. 13. Play for the Amateur Golf Championship begins to-morrow (September 14) at the Garden City Golf Club, with one of the largest fields ever to compete. The tournament will run for five days ending September 19. Approximately 200 of the country's best amateur golfers will seek the throne abdicated by Lawson Little when he turned professional shortly after winning the title last

Winners of various sectional tournaments will be allowed to compete at the Garden City Club, The United States Golf Association has allotted to a number of clubs the privilege to hold these preliminaries. As yet none of the returns have been reported to the U.S.G.A.

The Garden City Club is one of the very difficult courses of the country. It is located twenty-one miles from New York City. There are eleven par four holes, four pair fives, and three par threes, totalling 73 for the course. The jutgoing 13 | nine holes measure 3,376 yards and a the incoming 3,432.

HOLES DESCRIBED

A hole by hole description of the course follows: No. 1- 311 yards par 4. A drive to the right must carry 185 yards but leaves only a chip shot to the green; to the left is a short entry but requires a pitch shot over a deep trup to a fast green, No. 2-132 yards par 3. This hole bas an unusually large green with a ravine occupying all the distance between the tee and green. Getting the ball near to the hole is important on the tree shot, No. 3 380 rards, par 4. Drive is between two groups of inrue trees with an jout of bound on the right. Entennee to green wellguarded by two deep traps and a trap behind the green for approaches that are too strong. Again a large green calling for a well placed second shot,

No. 4 -- 500 yards, par 5. Trap and gully on left aide of fairway give big advantage to drives well placed on the right, for with a following wind it is often possible to get home in two. Entrance to green well guarded with traps on either side. No. 5 - 305 yards, par 4, A straight well hit drive will reach the entrance to the green leaving only a chip shot. Entrance to green guarded by two traps and also plenty of trouble on the left for a book. No. 6--442 yarls, par 4. One of the best

Shanghai, Sept. 9. THE Club Lusitano beat a Hongkong four by twenty-four shots to eleven, by superior play and combination, although the score is no true indication of the match, Hongkong giving Lusitano a much harder fight than the results show. The green was very fast and tricky and both fours found it difficult to maintain length and green. There was a fair sized crowd present and they were rewarded by witnessing a really excellent game. The matshed was beflagged and the arrangements for scating etc. good. At the conclusion of the match the visitors were entertained to a cocktail party, when the President Mr. M. ## MEN AND THINGS ABROAD

ROM the Austrian border to the Polish, roughly, round three sides of a square, there runs for 600 miles or so one of the most anxious frontiers in Europe.

Inside the square is democratic Czechoslovakia; outside is Nazi Germany, From Prague, the capital, to the German border is only some fifty miles.

Historically, this frontier line divided the "Crown-lands" of the Habsburgs from the territories of Bavaria and Saxony and Prussia. From 1871 to 1919. It was the boundary between the German and Austro-Hungarian Empires.

Then, by the Peace Treaties, Czechoslovakia was created: the three Austrian provinces of Bohemia, Moravia and Silesia, in which the Czechs were the majority, the Slovak districts of Northern Hungary, and away to the East another bit of Austria, in which the people are Russian.

the 14,700,000 citizend of the Czechoslovak Republic, 7,700,000 are Czechs, 2,000,000 Slovaks, 3,200,000 Germans, '700,000 Hungarians, 600,000 Russians, 80,000 Poles, and 200,000 Jews.

 And of the 3,200,000 Germans (Sudeten-Deutschen, they call themselves, from the Sudete Mountains), the big majority live in the districts by the Berman border. There are, pro- portionately, just about as many Germans in Czechoslovakia as French-Swiss in Switzerland. They inhabit an area nearly the size of Belglum.

It, is the biggest national minority in any European State. And its emistence is a complicating factor in the situation.

These Suddle-Germans of Czechowlovakia were, of course, before the Peace, not "Germans," but "Austrians." When the treaties were made they claimed that they, as well as the Czechs, had the right to "selfdetermination," asked to be united with "German Austria."

But the treaty-makers rejected their claims. On historical, economic and strategic grounds it was decided that the German districts must be part and parcel of the new Czechoslovak State. Moreover, there was no sharp languagefrontier. In the most German areas there is a Czech minority: there are, in other places, German " islands" entirely surrounded by Czechs.

Since then they have been a people with a grievance. At the least, they said, they should have been treated on a footing of complete equality with the Czechs: as the French-Swiss in Switzerland.

But, they complained, the State was, in fact as well as name, a Czechoslovak Republic. Czech and Slovak were its official languages. but not German. In the army, in the Civil Service, marked preference was given to Czechs.

. They were, they said, treated not in any way as equal partners, but as a half-alien minority; with rights indeed as a minority guaranteed them by the treatles: but not with the full equality to which their numbers and their economic importance entitled them.

COMPLAINTS have not been without substance. The Germana of Czechoslovakia have never been treated as the Swiss French, And there have been diseriminations. In the Post Office, for example, only 12.54 per cent. of the employees are Germans.

young. At the General Election in May of last year the new Sudeten Deutsche Partel, headed by Conrad Henlein, a former bank clerk who had become organiser of German athletic associations, won startling victories, sweeping the German areas.

It is a new and a dangerous phenomenon, for the Henlein party—though Henlein vehemently denies that it is either Nazi or disguised Nazi, or that it is in touch with the Nazis and the Reich—has marked Nazi characteristics.

It is vehemently anti-Socialist, and anti-Liberal. It is totalitarian, in that it claims that the one party with its one leader should represent all the Germans of Czechoslovakia, that within the community parties and class conflicts must vanish... It is, though less vehemently, anti-Semitic,

UT above all there is the other question. Are Henieln and his party loyal to the State? Arc they fighting merely for full equality for the Germans of Czechoslovakia? Or are they the advance guard of an aggressive Nazism, planning to break the State from within, to prepare the way for a new German conquest of the Czech lands? Henlein himself insists that his movement is neither disruptive nor pan-German.

" We do not want to work against the State. We wish to work loyally with the State. We want to be treated as citizens having equal rights with the others, and to find within the State security for our nationality."

He insists that internationally heis working for peace and reconciliation.

"Our real mission lies in acting as mediator between our great German mother nation and the Czech people. That is our great task in the cause of peace."

The Czechs hear. But they are not convinced. They frankly distrust Henlein and his assurances. They see in his movement a double threat: an internal threat to demoeracy; and external threat from over the frontier.

"Distrust," they say, "will only vanish when it becomes clear that Henlein's words are genuinely meant."

Abroad, they say, he talks of loyalty and reconciliation. But at home "his party does not indulge in positive and loyal criticism, but in criticism at all costs and in provoking racial animority."

It is a difficult and a dangerous situation for the Czcehs. A large, organised, discontented national minority is a serious problem for any State. It is a hundred times more serious when that minerity Is linked by långuage and national feeling to a people of a great and militant Power just over the border.

A policy of conciliation involves the risk of strengthening and bringing into key positions in the State machine elements which would work from within to weaken and destroy it.

A policy of repression might ensity lead to open revolt and an appeal for aid from across the border: It might play straight into the hands of pan-Germanism. It must certainly aggravate and make worse relations between Czechoslovakia and her powerful neighbour: a dangerous thing in itself.

L HE choice is not easy. But there are signs that President Benes and Premier Hadza are trying quietly the possibilities of conciliation. If Henlein responds: if he can satisfy them that the Germans will be loyal, a settlement should not be impossible.

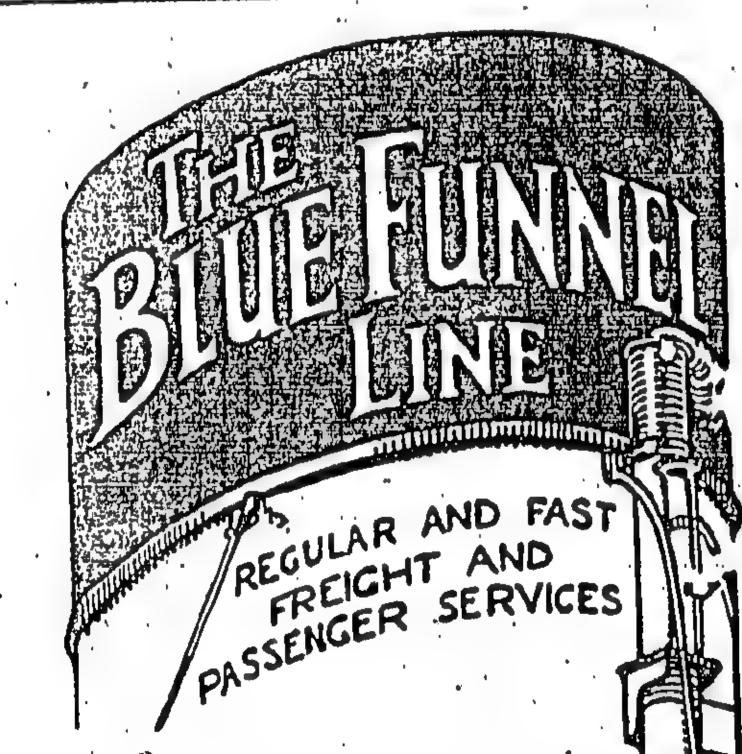

And then from this most anxious of Europe's borderlands some at least of the anxiety should vanish.

TOLIDAY makers are finding much to interest them in the A House of Commons. There is, for example, the magic wand used by Mr. Walter Elliot when he makes his periodical entrances dressed as the fairy queen of agri-

And there is Mr. Chamberlain's comic dickey, preserved in a case just inside the door to the right. It is worn only at full-dress debates, and is so contrived that it flies up and hits him a smack on the nose whenever laughter is needed to ease the tension. But visitors "anxious to see the scat

ANOTHER CHAPTER OF HISTORY EDUCATION IN H.K.

TWELVE CLASS ROOMS WILL HAVE ACCOMMODATION FOR 360 BRITISH BOYS AND GIRLS

IN the first public function since his recent illness, His Excellency the Governor will use a gold key at 3 p.m. to-day to open Hongkong's new half-million dollar Central British School.

British scholars in the Colony will then commence their Michaelmas Term in a building which, of its class, is by far the most modern and hygienic in the Far East.

Many hundred parents, Old Boys and Girls, and visitors are expected to witness the Opening Ceremony.

On arrival at the School His Excellency the Governor will be received by the Headmaster, Mr. G. E. S. Upsdell and at the Main Entrance will be presented with the Gold Key by the Architect, Mr. W. A. Cornell.

Following the official opening, an inspection of the entire building will be made.

Broadcasting In Hongkong

READER CRITICISES ZBW COMMITTEE

In a recent issue you made public, for the first time, the names of the members of the Hongkong Broadcasting Committee. This letter is one of criticism of that committee, but I hope the members of it will accept my remarks as constructively meant, and in no sense personal.

My first criticism is that, as the governing body for broadcasting in this colony, it is too small. For efficient control, it is necessary to have numerous sub-committees (e.g., for programmes, staff, auditions, technical matters, publicity, finance, outside broadcasts etc.) which to be of use would have to meet frequent-

ELECTION URGED

The only reasonable and fair method of obtaining a committee really representative, is by election of members by the interests concern- lin). ed for a limited period of office. ### "MILLION-AIRS ON PARADE"

Portuguese Amateurs Excel

Nearly 1,000 people suddenly realised last night that Hongkong has some amateur song and dance talent considerably above the average. This realisation came when the Hongkong Portuguese Ameteurs presented their variety programme entitled "Million-Airs On Parade", which proved to be two hours of delightful entertainment.

There was not a dull moment and several of the items were outstandingly good. One of the most entertaining numbers was a riotous interpretation of "The Music Goes Round and Round" by Fred Abraham, Chappie Lawrence and the Hot-Cha-Cha Babies, while the Tayares Sisters earned spontaneous applause and an encore for their song and tap dance "I've Got My Fingers Crossed."

Art Carneiro showed himself to be a thorough and versatile artist when he gave fine accordeon solos and

It is really invidious to pick out any particular contributor to this attractive programme, but one cannot liely retaining a vivid and happy recollection of two farces staged by Tony Silva, Mike / Franco, Noel Barretto and Willie Osborne.

Gus D'Aquino was in excellent voice in singing "With All My Heart," and as an encore "Lonesome Trail" while May Carneiro led a splendid ensemble number "The Lady In Red", which was particularly well staged and costumed.

The Million-Airs Jazz Orchestra, the Moana Beach Boys, and Ozo and his Boy-Friends all assisted in making the entertainment one of the most enjoyable offered to the public for a long time.

To Mr. M. P. dos Remedios goes unstinted credit for neat and thorough work as producer, while Fred Abraham's efforts as director played no little part in the success of the evening.

The performers laboured under the difficulty of being in the open air, but they overcame the handicap in creditable manner. It was, 'perhaps a pity that the items could not have been better amplified, and this is a detail to which attention might be directed when the show is put on again at the Craigengower Cricket Club. The attendance was especially gratifying as the net proceeds were on behalf of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul.

At the conclusion of the programme, dancing followed in the main hall of the Club de Recreio.

Mr. Remedies, opening the case, said he had sent a letter to the I.G.P. applying for a licence for his client, but that he had heard nothing of it since the date of his application. on September 10.

Sub-Inspector Baker said he had in his custody the letter written by Mr. Remedies and that he had sent for the defendant and told him that his application had been refused, as he was not fit to be a watchman. The defendant had made a previous application in June, but that had also been refused for the same reason. He again saw defendant on Saturday and warned him that he was not to go on duty as a watchman as he had no licence. Defendant, who was employed by an Indian firm, did not go to work after the warning, but on Sunday he was seen patrolling outside the firm and a report was made to the Central Police Station by an Indian Constable who was told to keep a look-out for defendant. Receiving the report. witness himself had defendant arrested. He added there was no hope for the defendant to obtain a licence in Hongkong unless he made an application to the Governor.

Mr. Balfour said he did not take a serious view of the case as defendunt had not deliberately tried to bea watchman without a licence, and discharged him with a caution.
